song of the council

the name of our wisdom is wine and dance and silence -
the name of the great hunger is the same -
the goddess of wisdom
is always alone,
and always drunk
and always she feels the far-off rhythm of the unknown teasing her pride, binding her tongue, releasing the voices of her listening blood - we'll protect her aloneness and shield her silence, her words do creep strange ways -
